

Elizabeth Saleeby

Partner
Calibre CPA Group
Bethesda, Maryland

Elizabeth (“Liz”) Saleeby is a partner in the audit department of Calibre CPA Group in Bethesda, Maryland. With over 15 years of experience in public accounting, she has significant audit expertise working with tax-exempt organizations, including single and multiemployer employee benefit plans, labor unions, trade and professional associations, and charitable foundations. Saleeby is heavily involved in the firm’s audit learning and development initiatives and serves as one of the firm’s primary trainers for audit professionals. She is also a member of the firm’s Accounting and Auditing Services Committee, which is responsible for developing and maintaining accounting and auditing guidance and standards for the firm’s professionals. In recent years, she has focused extensively on improving audit quality and efficiency through the implementation of automation, AI, and project management principles within the audit process. As a regular presenter for internal and external training programs, Saleeby has developed and presented courses on auditing, AI and automation, and employee benefit plan and nonprofit accounting matters. She earned her B.A. in Accounting from Michigan State University and her M.B.A. in Accounting from George Mason University.