

David J. Asselstine, CA-IFA, CFE, CPA

Senior Vice President and Chief Financial Officer/Chief Risk Officer
Teachers' Retirement Allowances Fund
Winnipeg, Manitoba

Mr. Asselstine is currently the senior vice president and chief financial officer, as well as the chief risk officer at the Teachers' Retirement Allowances Fund (TRAF). He is responsible for all finance and information services matters. In his capacity as chief risk officer, Mr. Asselstine is the leader of TRAF's enterprise cybersecurity strategy. In addition, he works closely with the board, the investment committee and the investment team in establishing the investment risk appetite, investment strategy, and the design and execution of the investment program. Prior to joining TRAF, Mr. Asselstine was the president of In-focus Forensic Financial Investigations Ltd., where he served as a fraud expert, forensic accountant and financial investigator. His clients have included, among others, the International Monetary Fund, local and national governments, numerous foreign governments, an independent and historic public inquiry, municipal and national police forces, and various public regulatory bodies. On five occasions, Mr. Asselstine has testified as an expert witness in criminal tribunals dealing with such matters as investment fraud and other white collar crime matters.