

Nate Black

Vice President, Consumer Driven Health
Voya Financial
Minneapolis, Minnesota

Nate Black is vice president of consumer driven health and leads Voya's Health Savings and Spending Accounts team. In his role, he is responsible for the growth of the Spending Accounts business. Prior to joining Voya, Black was a leader in McKinsey & Company's Health Systems and Services practice, where he focused on strategy and operations topics. He previously led Corporate Development for Bloom Health, a benefits technology company. Black holds a bachelor's degree in mathematics and economics from St. Olaf College.