

Jeffrey S. Bucholtz, M.A.

Social Impact Educator
Rady Children's Health
San Diego, California

---

Jeffrey S. Bucholtz (they/them), co-founder and co-president of (R)EVOLVE Consulting, Inc., director of We End Violence, and social impact educator at Rady Children's Hospital, brings 20 years of experience in training, consulting, strategic planning, and digital education on topics including the following: building cultures of belonging, leadership development, sexual violence prevention and response, equity and inclusion, cross-sector collaboration, stalking, instructional design, bullying, bias, masculinity, popular culture, and more. Jeff has provided training, coaching, curriculum, and consulting to hundreds of thousands of teams and leaders in various sectors (including corporate America, the U.S. Armed Forces, higher education, health care, law enforcement, government, and nonprofits). Jeff served as president of the San Diego Domestic Violence Council for four years, fostering cross-sector collaboration across the county. Jeff is an award-winning adjunct faculty member at Southwestern College, teaches The Influence of Media on Wellbeing at San Diego State University, and was a speaker at Pasadena TEDx 2018.