

Leonard B. Comberiate, CEBS,
CEBS Compliant, ISCEBS-Fellow, CFP,
SPHR-SCP

Assistant Associate Professor
New York University, School of Professional Studies
Ossining, New York

Leonard B. Comberiate is a faculty member at the New York University Stern School of Business, where he teaches courses in retirement planning, risk management, estate planning and investments. He also consults on global benefits for a major nonprofit philanthropic organization. He has been active in employee benefits for 47 years and has held senior level positions in NASDAQ, The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company and within the consulting profession at Aon as well as the Segal Company. Comberiate received his B.S. degree summa cum laude from Pratt University and holds an M.S. degree from SUNY Stony Brook, an M.B.A. degree in actuarial science from Temple University and an M.S.F.S. degree from the College for Financial Planning. He holds the CEBS, CFP and SPHR-SCP designations; is CEBS Compliant; and is a Fellow of ISCEBS. A long-time Society member, Comberiate was inducted into the ISCEBS Hall of Fame in recognition of his contributions to the employee benefits profession.