

Dana E. Cook, CEBS, GPHR

Senior Global Benefits Consultant
Lockton Companies
Kansas City, Missouri

Dana Cook is a Senior Consultant with Lockton's Global Benefits Practice who leads a team of consultants to serve the varied needs of multinational employers. She works with her clients' HR teams and key stakeholders to understand each client's benefits philosophy and objectives. She also assists with the development of global strategies that are aligned with those corporate objectives. Dana and her team work as an extension of the client's HR department to deploy global strategies at the local level, in partnership with Lockton Global® offices. Dana assists clients across various industries, including technology, legal, manufacturing, hospitality and the nonprofit sector, with projects such as multinational pooling, governance consulting, M&A harmonization, and solutions for expatriates and international assignees. Dana has 25 years of consulting experience in the employee benefits and insurance sector, with nearly a decade of experience in global benefits consulting. She is a skilled analyst and strategic planner, able to find innovative solutions to complex challenges. Dana understands how to work effectively across cultures and enjoys building relationships through collaborative communication. She earned her Certified Employee Benefit Specialist® (CEBS®) designation from the International Foundation and is also a Global Professional in Human Resources® (GPHR®).
