

Erica Coulombe, M.Sc., SIPC

Vice President
Millani
Montréal, Québec

Erica Coulombe is vice president of Millani. She has more than ten years of consulting experience in sustainability and responsible investment in Canada and Europe. After an internship with the World Resources Institute in Washington, D.C., Coulombe joined Deloitte's sustainability group before moving to France, where she worked for GreenFlex, a leading sustainability consulting firm based in Paris. In March 2017, Coulombe joined Millani, a consulting firm providing advisory services in ESG integration for both investors and companies. Having worked and supported companies of all sizes and sectors, from SMEs to institutional investors, Coulombe has developed a deep understanding of sustainable development and is able to bridge the gap between companies and investors on environmental, social and governance issues. Coulombe holds a B.Com. degree in international management with a minor in environment from McGill University, a master's degree in sustainable development (M.Sc.) and a certificate in energy and finance from HEC Paris. She also holds the Sustainable Investment Professional Certification (SIPC) designation from Concordia University's John Molson School of Business.
