

Sarah Dick

Area Vice President,
Leader, Global Risk Solutions–Center of Excellence
Gallagher
Phoenix, Arizona

Sarah Dick leads the Global Risk Solutions–Center of Excellence, National Client Consultant Team and is an area vice president within the multinational benefits and human resources practice of Gallagher Benefit Services, Inc. She heads the team of consultants managing large clients who build competitive, compliant programs that solve complex global benefits, HR, mobility and risk needs for global employees. Dick specializes in integrated duty of care as well as international medical, emergency assistance, travel and global EAP solutions and has more than 30 years of experience in international assignee benefits, travel assistance and U.S. benefits. She held leadership roles at a Fortune 4 health insurer's international division, where she ran the Midwest market as lead director of sales and service, managed strategic partner relations for four top consulting firms, and worked with Canada market development and national account clients. She spent time as a locally hired foreign national in South Africa designing insurance programs. Dick enjoys a broad geographical footprint, having lived and worked across the U.S. as well as in South Africa, Germany and France. She holds a bachelor of arts degree in history from Yale University, completed the Duke University Executive Education Leadership Certificate as well as advanced underwriting courses at Aetna, and holds life and health insurance licenses. She speaks at industry events on topics such as emergency assistance, duty of care, global COVID-19 response, trends in expatriate health care and expatriate solutions in remote areas. Dick serves as a volunteer associate of NAMI (National Alliance on Mental Illness) and is a board member at the Yale Club of Tucson, which hosts a community education seminar series.
