

Brandy Diehl

Relationship Executive
Optum Financial Services
Minneapolis-St. Paul, Minnesota

Brandy Diehl is a relationship executive, Optum Financial Services (OFS). Her primary responsibilities are in the delivery of client-specific insights necessary to inform compelling strategies to engage and empower their workforce in becoming more efficient and effective consumers of health care. She also coordinates across the depth of Optum enterprise assets to bring the tools and resources necessary to deliver to her client's goals. She has been in her current role since 2018, and her health care finance experience dates back to 2012. Diehl builds strong relationships to ensure all clients and participants have the tools they need to fully understand and utilize their benefits. She pays particular attention to proactivity, timeliness and well-defined success. Diehl has an associate degree in criminal justice from Iowa Central.
