Hoan Do Companies, LLC
Seattle, Washington

From an early age, Hoan Do was conscious of the sacrifices his parents had made in their escape to the United States during the Vietnam War in pursuit of the American Dream. Feeling indebted to his parents for their courageous pursuit of a better life, Do vowed to ensure that one day, he would be able to take care of his parents. Do's hard work took him to Malibu, California, where he attended Pepperdine University. With the tremendous pressure Do placed on himself, in addition to the stresses of demanding classes, extracurricular responsibilities and important life decisions, Do found himself overwhelmed. His self-esteem reached an all-time low. He even contemplated suicide. Refusing to settle and give up on life, Do used this experience as a turning point to learn the practical skills that were necessary to succeed in school and in life. After graduating from Pepperdine University, Do beat out candidates who were considerably older and vastly more experienced than him to work with the #1 personal development company in the world. As a national speaker and corporate trainer, Do conducted training sessions for distinguished audiences that included 21, Bank of America, Honda, Toyota, UBS Financial, Chambers of Commerce and the U.S. Army. Do travels the world sharing messages of hope and inspiration. Through partnering with organizations, colleges and schools, Do's practical strategies have impacted over 250,000 professionals and students. He has been featured on Good Morning America, NBC, Yahoo Finance, The Chicago Tribune, and Lay's chip bags nationwide. The Seattle Magazine recognized Do as one of the top 25 influential people in Seattle. His engaging style and ability to share important life lessons in a way that people resonate with has earned him the Verizon Wireless Motivator Award.
