

Joseph Enright

Executive Director
GCM Grosvenor
Chicago, Illinois

Joseph Enright is an executive director for GCM Grosvenor, focusing on infrastructure investments and labor and government strategies for the firm. Prior to joining GCM Grosvenor, Enright was in private practice as a construction attorney, advising contractors and developers on a wide range of project and labor-related issues, including collective bargaining agreements, project labor agreements and public procurement matters. He also served on the Board of the Chicagoland Association of General Contractors, the leading Illinois association for signatory general contractors. Previously, Enright was the director of policy for the Illinois Office of the Comptroller and Special Counsel to the Comptroller, where he worked to pass legislation and collaborated with leaders of organized labor on a wide range of policy initiatives, including policies requiring strict enforcement of the Illinois Prevailing Wage Act. Enright has also served in various leadership roles on several statewide political campaigns, where he coordinated policy and political efforts with various labor leaders. Enright received his bachelor of arts degree from John Carroll University and his Juris Doctor from Loyola University Chicago. He currently serves as an advisor to the Labor Capital Strategies Fellowship Program at Georgetown University.