

Chris Fielder

Communications Consultant; Multiemployer Solutions Lead
Segal Benz
Kansas City, Kansas

Chris Fielder, formerly a 9th-grade writing teacher, values taking extra time—and fewer words—to make complicated concepts digestible. His work has been recognized by the Academy of Interactive & Visual Arts with Communicator Awards of Excellence and Distinction.

He holds a B.A. from Seton Hall University and a M.I.L.R. in Industrial and Labor Relations from Cornell University. Chris leads business development and solution design at Segal Benz for Taft-Hartley funds. His current clients include the National Coordinating Committee for Multiemployer Plans (NCCMP), FanDuel, Nutanix, Cook County Pension Fund, Pension Boards of the United Church of Christ, National Automatic Sprinkler Industry Welfare Fund, and Teamsters Local 786 Health and Welfare Fund. Separately, Chris serves on executive boards for Heart of America Humane Society and Friends of Kansas City, Kansas Animal Services.

Chris lives in Kansas City, Kansas with his wife, whom he happily blames for two of three cats, two dogs, six chickens, and a rotating crowd of animals awaiting placement in foster homes.