

Carla Foden

Global Growth Leader and Managing Consultant
Gallagher
London, United Kingdom

Carla Foden is the growth leader and managing consultant for Gallagher Global Mobility Solutions (part of the Multinational Benefits and Human Resources Practice). Based in London, her focus is on the development of the business related to international assignees, including program design, compliance consulting, assignment management, compensation administration, payroll and short-term business travel. Foden has extensive hands-on knowledge of the global mobility market, with a particular focus on providing customized solutions to a range of organizations—from those taking their first steps internationally to those with established global mobility programs. Prior to joining Gallagher, she gained over 12 years of experience in the global mobility industry through a range of client-facing roles in assignment management, mobility transformation, relocation, immigration and short-term business travel. Foden is GMS-accredited and holds an ILM leadership and management qualification. She was also shortlisted as a “Rising Star” in the industry-recognized EMMA awards.
