

Tyler Geiman, CPA, CFE, CFF

Partner

Novak Francella LLC

Columbia, Maryland

Tyler Geiman is a partner in the Washington, D.C. area office of Novak Francella LLC, where he leads the firm's forensic and litigation support practice and is a member of the firm's committee devoted to continuous improvement in audit approaches. Geiman specializes in the management of complex financial audits of labor organizations, multiemployer benefit plans, operational audits, forensic examination, and agreed-upon procedures related to health claims processing. He has managed audits for government entities, trade associations, law firms and financial organizations. Geiman is also an adjunct lecturer at McDaniel College and has conducted financial officer training classes at the George Meany Center for Labor Studies. He has lectured to organizations on financial and fiduciary responsibilities and been a speaker for the International Foundation of Employee Benefit Plans and for various forensic organizations. Geiman served as a member of the AICPA Forensic and Litigation Services (FLS) Committee and the FLS Fraud Task Force. During his tenure, he was the primary author of "Forensic Accounting: Investigation Report Writing" published by the AICPA Forensic and Valuation Services Section. He graduated from Western Maryland College (now McDaniel College) in 1993, majoring in economics and business administration. He is a CPA licensed to practice in the District of Columbia, Maryland and Virginia and has earned the accreditations of Certified Fraud Examiner (CFE) and Certified in Financial Forensics (CFF). Geiman is a member of the Maryland Association of CPAs, the Virginia Society of CPAs and the Association of Certified Fraud Examiners.