

Sharon M. Goodman, Esq.

Principal
Slevin & Hart, P.C.
Washington, D.C.

Sharon M. Goodman is a principal of the firm Slevin & Hart, P.C. and practices exclusively in the employee benefits law area. She has extensive experience in matters relating to Taft-Hartley health and pension plan design and tax qualification requirements, investments and plan administration. Goodman was a co-chair of the Qualified Retirement Income Plans Subcommittee of the ABA Section of Labor and Employment and is a member of the American Bar Association Section on Labor and Employment Law Committee on Employee Benefits and the American College of Employee Benefits Counsel. She is the chair of the Professionals Committee for the International Foundation of Employee Benefits Plan (IFEBP). She is on the board of editors of the Employee Benefits Law treatise and has spoken numerous times to the International Foundation of Employee Benefit Plans, the American Bar Association and other groups on many employee benefit plan issues. Goodman is a member of the District of Columbia and Maryland bars and is admitted to practice before the United States district courts of those districts. She graduated from Johns Hopkins University with a bachelor's degree, and received her law degree from Northeastern University School of Law.