

Frank Hawk

President and Chief Operating Officer
Southwest Regional Council of Carpenters
Las Vegas, Nevada

The son of a third-generation union contractor, Frank Hawk is a 37-year member of the Carpenters Union. He is currently the chief operating officer and president of the Southwest Regional Council of Carpenters. In addition to his leadership role in the largest Regional Council of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters, Hawk serves on several Taft-Hartley trust funds through multiple states within the Southwest. After the loss of their 18-year-old son Justin, he and his wife of 28 years, Justina, formed the Justin Hawk Foundation to draw consciousness to the challenges that teens face in today's world, along with mental health awareness and suicide prevention.
