

Meghan Horn, J.D., L.L.M.

Vice President and Senior Compliance Consultant
Segal
Washington, D.C.

Meghan Horn is a vice president and senior compliance consultant in Segal's Washington, D.C. office with over fifteen years of experience working with employee benefits law. Prior to joining Segal, she worked in the retirement division of a major municipality, representing its defined contribution and defined benefit plans, as well as with a law firm, representing multiemployer health and retirement plans. Before practicing law, Horn completed a clerkship with the Court of Special Appeals of Maryland. She is licensed to practice law in the State of Maryland and the District of Columbia as well as before the United States District Court for the District of Maryland and the United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit. Horn graduated magna cum laude from Salisbury University with a B.A. degree in English with a concentration in rhetoric and writing. She received a J.D. degree from the William & Mary Law School and an L.L.M. degree in taxation from the University of Baltimore School of Law.