CEO and Founder
Call for Culture
Downers Grove, Illinois

Angela R. Howard is an organizational psychologist who is passionate about conscious culture building. As the CEO and founder of Call for Culture, she works with leading companies and convenes interdisciplinary changemakers across these social systems to drive meaningful and sustainable change. By stepping outside of the traditional boundaries of HR, Angela takes a multidisciplinary approach to help companies hone the capabilities and strategies they need to future-proof their organizations and company culture.
