

George J. Huntley
Chief Executive Officer
Diabetes Leadership Council
Lexington, Kentucky

George J. Huntley is a founding member of the Diabetes Leadership Council and currently serves as CEO of both the Diabetes Leadership Council and its affiliate, the Diabetes Patient Advocacy Coalition. He has been living with type 1 diabetes since 1983 and has three other family members also living with type 1. A passionate advocate for people with diabetes, Huntley served as the national chair of the Board of the American Diabetes Association (ADA) in 2009. He is also the chief operating officer and chief financial officer of Theoris Group, Inc., a professional services firm headquartered in Indianapolis, Indiana, that provides engineering and information technology solutions. In his corporate role, Huntley has been the plan administrator of a self-insured health plan for over 20 years.