

Matthew Jackson

Senior Vice President and Consultant
Segal Select Insurance
New York, New York

Mr. Jackson is a senior vice president and consultant in Segal Select Insurance's New York office. He has over 15 years of experience in the insurance industry with a focus on Segal Select's four core services: fiduciary liability, fidelity bonds, employment practices liability and cyber liability insurance. He is involved in the service of many national benefits funds and coordinates marketing and service efforts for Segal Select in the east region. Mr. Jackson joined the New York office as an associate broker in the national fiduciary liability insurance practice (the precursor to Segal Select) where he was named a vice president and then senior vice president. Mr. Jackson has been quoted by media outlets, published in various industry publications and spoken at industry events on fiduciary liability and cyber liability protection. Mr. Jackson holds a B.A. degree from the University of Washington. He holds P&C Casualty Broker and Agent licenses in all 50 states. He also holds the Registered Professional Liability Underwriters (RPLU) designation from the Professional Liability Underwriting Society (PLUS).