

Pramod John, Ph.D.

CEO

VIVIO Health

San Francisco, California

Pramod is the team leader of VIVIO, a public benefit corporation that uses data and analytics to reinvent the therapeutic use and supply chain of specialty drugs. VIVIO's solution challenges the current framework of efficacy by extending it to actual effectiveness in the real world, resulting in significant acquisition savings and better outcomes for patients. VIVIO has grown rapidly, and customers include this F500 company in various industries such as distribution, manufacturing, high-tech, mining, healthcare services, and education. Before VIVIO, Pramod was the founder of Oration (owned by Change Healthcare), which focused on giving consumers control over their drug purchasing by capturing the prescription in the physician's office and providing real-time pricing options and automatic routing capabilities. Pramod was also VP of Strategy and Innovation at McKesson, the world's largest healthcare company. At McKesson, Pramod developed solutions that leveraged advanced technologies and business process improvements to optimize healthcare delivery systems, infrastructure, and supply chains. Earlier, Pramod founded and served as CEO of PacketMotion, a venture-funded startup in the enterprise-network-information-and-policy-management industry. VMWare later acquired the company. Pramod also founded netExaminer.com, a managed-vulnerability-assessment company acquired by SonicWALL. Pramod earned his Ph.D. in Electrical Engineering from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. He serves on the board of Wycliffe USA, the advisory board of Folia Water, and as a mentor at StartX.
