

Adam Johnson

Chief Growth and Strategy Officer
Everside Health
Denver, Colorado

Adam Johnson is chief growth and strategy officer at Everside Health, focusing on guiding Everside's future direction and evolution into the world's most desired, accessible and personalized healthcare experience. Johnson provides a unique and proven approach to growing the Everside brand into a market leader in direct primary care. Before bringing his expertise to Everside Health, he was the head of health strategy at Alight Solutions, where he led the effort to revolutionize Alight's benefits administration platform into the market-leading digital health and concierge platform in the United States. Before that, Johnson served as the president of Compass, where he led teams across the organization in growth, strategy, product development, delivery, business development and corporate development, culminating in a health navigation platform that boasted an industry-leading +85 net promoter score. He holds an undergraduate degree, magna cum laude, from Vanderbilt University and a master's degree from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.
