

Richard L. Jones
Executive Vice President and Executive Director
Heritage CARES
Coppell, Texas

Richard L. Jones is executive vice president and executive director of Heritage CARES, a division of Heritage Health Solutions. He is an experienced therapist, clinician and health care entrepreneur with more than 20 years in the behavioral health space, including mental health, substance use disorders (SUD), co-occurring disorders and intellectual disabilities. He has been the founding CEO of two non-profit organizations and two for-profit businesses dedicated to disrupting the behavioral health space for the betterment of people in need. Jones holds a B.S. degree from St. Vincent College, an M.A. degree in sociology and human services management from Indiana University of Pennsylvania, and an M.B.A. degree in health care administration management from Scranton University.