

Marin Koebert, MS

Wellness Manager

Fiserv

Milwaukee, Wisconsin

Marin Koebert is the Wellness Program Manager at Fiserv, where she leads the company's global well-being strategy and the Fuel Your Life wellness program. She oversees wellness communications, incentives, vendor partnerships, data analytics, and well-being initiatives that support associates and their families around the world.

During her tenure, Marin has helped strengthen Fiserv's culture of well-being through programs focused on physical, mental, financial, and social health, while driving innovative approaches to employee engagement and workforce well-being.

Marin played a key role in Fiserv's achievement of the Platinum Well Workplace Award and represented the company in accepting the award from the Wellness Alliance. She regularly collaborates with business leaders, benefits teams, and wellness champions to align well-being programs with organizational goals and employee needs.

Marin is passionate about creating evidence-based, scalable well-being programs that help employees thrive both personally and professionally.
