

Stephen L. Lamb, CAE

President
SLL, Inc.
Worthington, Ohio

Stephen L. Lamb has over 35 years of experience in the multiemployer construction trade association industry. He has served as a professional trustee on several ERISA funds including the Pipefitters Local 597 Pension, Welfare, Training and Defined Contribution Funds; the Ironworkers Local 473 Pension and Welfare Funds; and the Teamsters LU 703 Funds. Lamb is currently the facilitator for the International Foundation of Employee Benefit Plans Trustees Masters Program (TMP) Advanced Leadership Summit. He also serves as the national best practices mentor for the Mechanical Contractors Association of America (MCAA). Lamb helped develop the "Best Practices Reviews" program for MCAA. To date, he has performed more than 36 local association reviews. Lamb has facilitated strategic planning sessions for dozens of MCAA, SMACNA, PHCC and AGC affiliates, as well as joint labor-management and labor-management-owner (tripartite) groups. Lamb was the executive vice president of the MCA of Chicago for 22 years, bargaining for 400 union piping contractors with the 9,000-member Pipefitters Local 597. He attained the certified association executive designation and co-instructed the association law portion of the CAE study program in Chicago for several years. Lamb has also attained the master facilitator designation from the Leadership Access Institute.
