

William Lindsay

Senior Disability Management Advisor
Disability Management and Prevention Team
Desjardins Insurance
Montréal, Québec

As part of the Best Practices and Innovation team, William Lindsay has more than 16 years of experience in the field of group disability management. His experience spans a variety of industries and includes working for different insurance carriers. Fully bilingual, William's role is to create a true partnership that delivers the best in customer service and disability prevention and management that includes, among many other things, presentations to employers with the goal of strengthening their understanding of disability management and incorporating the most recent best practice into their internal absence management processes. William earned a B.Sc. degree in exercise science specializing in athletic therapy at Concordia University.