Founder, Moral Courage College
New York Times* Bestselling Author
Brooklyn, New York

Irshad Manji is founder of Moral Courage College, which teaches people worldwide to discuss polarizing issues productively. Her latest bestseller is Don't Label Me: How to Do Diversity Without Inflaming the Culture Wars. (Fun fact: Chris Rock calls the book "genius.") An acclaimed professor of leadership at New York University for many years, Manji now teaches with Oxford University's Initiative for Global Ethics and Human Rights. She is the winner of Oprah's first-ever "Chutzpah Award" for boldness. She received her bachelor's degree (with honors) in history from the University of British Columbia and was the winner of the Governor-General's medal for Top Achievement in the Humanities.
