

Roger McMichael, M.B.A.

Associate Superintendent
Carmel Clay Schools
Carmel, Indiana

Roger McMichael currently serves as the associate superintendent for Carmel Clay Schools in Carmel, Indiana. He has 46 years of experience working within public education, 26 of those years being at Carmel Clay Schools. McMichael began his career in education teaching art and moved into business administration after completing his M.B.A. degree. As associate superintendent, McMichael is responsible for all aspects of the district's business affairs, including finance, benefits, facilities, transportation, technology and food services. He was also key in developing a district wellness program and has been pivotal in creating a nationally acclaimed employee wellness center. McMichael is a visionary when it comes to the best interests of children and employees. He regularly takes yoga and other fitness classes and actively pursues ideal health. McMichael earned both his bachelor of science degree in education and M.B.A. degree from Indiana University.