

Jeremy Nobel, M.D., M.P.H.

President
The Foundation for Art & Healing
Boston, Massachusetts

Dr. Jeremy Nobel serves on the faculty of the Harvard Medical School and the Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health. His teaching and research activities focus on population health, social determinants of health, and the design and evaluation of health improvement intervention programs. Dr. Nobel has had a career-long focus on workplace health, serving as medical director at Verizon and the Northeast Business Group on Health, along with numerous advisory and consultative roles with Fortune 500 employers, municipal employers, unions and Taft-Hartley Trusts. Dr. Nobel is president of The Foundation for Art & Healing and its signature initiative, Project UnLonely. He is also the author of Project UnLonely: Healing Our Crisis of Disconnection. Dr. Nobel is board-certified in internal medicine, preventive medicine and occupational medicine, with master's degrees in both public health and epidemiology from the Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health. He received his M.D. degree from the University of Pennsylvania and graduated magna cum laude from Princeton University. A published poet, Dr. Nobel has also received several awards for his work, including the Bain-Swiggett Prize from Princeton University and the American Academy of Poets Prize from the University of Pennsylvania.