

Kim Page

Director, Private Pension Plans Supervision
Office of the Superintendent of Financial Institutions (OSFI)
Ottawa, Ontario

Kim Page has over 25 years of experience in the pension industry, including 14 years at the Office of the Superintendent of Financial Institutions (OSFI) and ten years working in the pension practice of a major consulting firm. She is currently the director of private pension plans supervision at OSFI, where she oversees federally regulated private pension plans and pooled registered pension plans to ensure compliance with minimum funding requirements as well as legislative and supervisory requirements. She holds a bachelor's degree in actuarial science from Laval University and is an associate of the Canadian Institute of Actuaries (ACIA) and the Society of Actuaries (ASA).