

Olivier Pagé, MBA, M.Ed.

Director, Group Disability Management Operations
Medavie Blue Cross
Montréal, Québec

Olivier Pagé, MBA, M.Ed. plays a key leadership role at Medavie Blue Cross as Director, Group Disability Management Operations. He is accountable for the end-to-end disability client experience across all Canadian provinces, leading a pan-Canadian team of nearly 200 Disability professionals.

Olivier has an extensive background in leadership, disability management, and education. Throughout his career, he has advanced Disability Management capabilities in multiple organizations, focusing on staff development, creating efficiencies, and optimizing teams to deliver positive client experiences and financial stability.

Before joining Medavie in 2020, he led Disability Management, Rehabilitation, and Administration teams, and played an active role in disability technology transformations in different Canadian insurers helping implement disability management systems and streamline processes to improve case management and client services.

Olivier has published on mental health and remote work in Revue RH, and co-authored research on the HR Business Partner role.

He holds a Bachelor of Education, an Executive MBA from Laval University, and a Master's in Training Management and Education from the University of Sherbrooke.