

Daniel F. Pedrotty

Director, Capital Strategies
North America's Building Trades Unions (NABTU)
Washington, D.C.

Most recently, Daniel F. Pedrotty was labor policy advisor for Vice President Kamala Harris, and he also served as staff director for the White House Task Force on Worker Organizing and Empowerment. Prior to that role and his current role as director of capital strategies for North America's Building Trades Unions (NABTU), Pedrotty served as director of capital strategies for the American Federation of Teachers. Earlier in his career, he worked as a research associate for the Initiative for Responsible Investment at Harvard University and as director of the Office of Investment at the AFL-CIO. He earned a B.A. degree from Dickinson College and a J.D. degree from Wake Forest University.