Goldblatt Partners LLP
Toronto, Ontario

Susan Philpott is a partner with Goldblatt Partners LLP. She understands how important pensions and benefits are to the well-being of workers and their families. Trade unions rely on Philpott to expand their members' engagement and role in workplace pension and benefits as well as to navigate through employer insolvencies and restructuring. She has guided faculty associations and unions through the negotiation and establishment of their sector and workplace pension plans. She also acts for plan trustees, helping them meet their legal obligations through good governance practices, prudent decision-making, and advice on statutory and contractual compliance. Philpott has been involved in numerous high-profile cases, including insolvency proceedings at Laurentian University, Nortel, Target Canada, Air Canada, the Red Cross and Eaton's, and the development of the National Hockey League players' pension plans. She is an active member of the Canadian Association of Labour Lawyers and the Canadian Bar Association National Pension Executive.
