

Stuart Rudner

Employment Lawyer and Mediator
Rudner Law
Markham, Ontario

Stuart Rudner is an employment lawyer and mediator with Rudner Law. He has been trained in alternative dispute resolution techniques and acts as a mediator in employment matters. Rudner has been selected for inclusion in The Best Lawyers in Canada for employment law for the past seven years; is routinely named in Canadian HR Reporter's Employment Lawyers Directory; is recognized as one of Canada's top Legal Social Media Influencers; and is the only Legal Influencer in Canadian HR Law in the first Lexology Awards. Rudner frequently participates in conferences, seminars and webinars, and he provides media commentary on employment law matters, including providing expert analysis to 680 News as their "go-to Employment Lawyer." He designed and is founding director of Osgoode Professional Development's HR Law for HR Professionals Certificate course. He also co-designed and is co-founding program director of their Advanced HR Law for HR Professionals Certificate course. Rudner earned his bachelor of arts degree (Honours) in industrial relations in 1996 and was called to the Ontario bar in 1999.