

Daniel Siblik, ASA, MAAA, FCA, EA

Vice President and Actuary

Segal

Flower Mound, Texas

Dan has more than 30 years of experience in the defined benefits consulting industry and focuses primarily on public sector pension plans, after working for several years on multiemployer plans. His clients have included statewide plans, municipalities, transit authorities, boards, Public Safety plans and Native American plans. His work projects have included actuarial valuations, experience studies, plan redesign, actuarial audits, and legislative requests among others for both pension and retiree health plans. Dan has also participated in presenting at actuarial conferences and professional conferences in the public sector community. In addition, he has authored and co-authored retirement-related articles and industry studies. He has written several articles and reports and recently co-authored Social Security works such as 'Hazards of Mandating Social Security on the Public Sector' in conjunction with CPRS (Coalition to Preserve Retirement Security) and 'How do Public Pension Plans Measure up to Social Security on Inflation Protection' for NCPERS.