

Anjanette Simone, GBA, GBDS

Director, Health and Benefits

WTW

Tampa, Florida

Anjanette Simone serves as a director of health and benefits at WTW's Tampa office, leading comprehensive health and welfare consulting services for clients. With over twenty-five years of experience in health and welfare benefits, Anjanette brings a wealth of expertise in corporate leadership, operations, and client service. Her career spans both domestic and international settings, where she has partnered with mid-sized and large employers to design healthcare ecosystems aligned to their strategic goals. Anjanette plays a pivotal role in guiding clients towards optimized healthcare delivery and cost reduction. She excels in driving innovation, helping clients leverage new solutions to achieve their desired outcomes. Anjanette is skilled in conducting thorough analyses of complex data sets, distilling insights that inform actionable strategies to enhance cost management and improve the healthcare experience for members. Anjanette also coordinates with regional and national subject matter experts in areas such as pharmacy, absence management, and compliance/regulatory issues. Anjanette studied communications at Georgia State University and holds the Group Benefits Associate (GBA®) designation from the International Foundation of Employee Benefit Plans and the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania, along with recognition as a Group Benefits Disability Specialist (GBDS). Her commitment to excellence is evident in her educational background and professional certifications, which underscore her dedication to delivering exceptional service and results.