Christie Stephenson is the executive director of the Peter P. Dhillon Centre for Business Ethics at UBC Sauder School of Business. She also serves on the boards of Vancity, one of Canada's largest financial cooperatives; Central 1, which is a reporting issuer and one of Canada's domestic systemically important financial institutions; and the University of British Columbia Staff Pension Plan and its ESG committee. Before joining UBC Sauder in 2016, Stephenson spent more than 15 years at socially responsible and impact investing firms Sustainalytics (then Jantzi Research Associates), NEI Investments (Ethical Funds) and Rally Assets (previously Purpose Capital). She is a member of the Climate Governance Experts Network of the Canadian Climate Law Initiative, the Metro Vancouver Zero Emissions Innovation Centre's investment committee, the British Columbia Securities Commission Corporate Finance Stakeholder Forum, and the International Impact and Sustainable Finance Faculty Consortium. Stephenson also teaches ESG investing to undergraduate and MBA students and trains board directors on ESG governance. She has a graduate degree from McGill University and an undergraduate degree from the University of Victoria.
