
Frank Tanz

Vice President and Senior Consultant
Administration & Technology Consulting
Segal
New York, New York

Frank Tanz is a vice president and senior consultant in Segal's New York office. He brings more than 25 years of experience advising multiemployer and public sector benefit organizations on technology strategy, operations, governance, and modernization initiatives.

Frank has deep experience across executive technology leadership, software engineering, project management, database architecture, and network operations. He advises clients on information technology initiatives that include system modernization, vendor oversight, IT governance, cybersecurity, implementation planning, and related operational improvements. He also frequently serves in the capacity of a virtual chief information officer.

Prior to joining Segal, Frank served as director of information technology for a national benefits fund office. He is a member of the Philadelphia chapter of the Society for Information Management and regularly participates in and presents at International Foundation of Employee Benefit Plans conferences. He also serves on the steering committee for Segal's annual IT Summit.

Frank holds a Master of Science degree in software engineering and a bachelor's degree in information systems from Villanova University. He is an adjunct professor at Villanova University and Strayer University, where he teaches courses in information systems and technology.
