

Alyssa Thomas, GBA

SVP and Client Advisor, People Solutions
Lockton
New York, New York

As an SVP and client advisor in the people solutions practice for Lockton Northeast in New York City, Alyssa supports complex, mid-market Lockton clients by developing comprehensive, multiyear rewards and benefits strategies, informed by data, market trends and financial targets; helping them align internal program goals and set targets for measurement of success; assuring that client teams execute client strategies and navigate internal and external roadblocks to achieve success; and serving as executive sponsor on behalf of clients to market industry leaders. Alyssa has deep experience managing health and welfare programs and assisting clients with attracting and retaining top talent. Alyssa also serves Lockton Northeast as an AE development cohort leader, leading a team of cross-regional associates in setting the regional strategy on the professional development of account executives across the Northeast. In this role, she also identifies training priorities and manages training events. Alyssa received her bachelor's degree in industrial/organizational psychology and her master's of public administration degree from Baruch College in New York, New York.
