Principal and Consulting Actuary
Milliman
Denver, Colorado

Jill Van Den Bos is a principal in the Denver Health practice at Milliman. She has consulted on health care risk arrangements, pricing and rate filings and advised health plans, providers and employers. Van Den Bos has been a member of two Milliman task forces to study the impact of health care reform. Recent work has been with new risk-takers in the Affordable Care Act of 2010 (ACA) era. Her relevant experience includes support of new market entrants with the creation of financial pro forma projections, plan design, membership projections, complex ACA—the field of pharmacoeconomics. This work involves collaborative research, including compliance analysis, dosing studies, predictive modeling and the impact of benefit design. Van Den Bos brings together producers and users of this research and speaks/writes on the subject as well. Her work in long-term care insurance includes pricing, product development, valuations, filings and large group offerings. She co-authored the book True Group Long-Term Care, presenting methods for employers to offer long-term care coverage using insights from other true group benefits such as pensions. Previously, Van Den Bos worked on a research team at the University of Colorado at Boulder. She earned her B.A. from Davidson College and her M.A. in experimental social psychology at the University of California.
