

Candice White

Chief Executive Officer and Registrar
Skilled Trades Ontario
Mississauga, Ontario

Candice White is the Chief Executive Officer and Registrar of Skilled Trades Ontario. With over 20 years of senior leadership experience, including the last 13 years at an executive level in the public sector, she has served as a Chief Administrative Officer in municipal government and brings prior experience in the construction and retail sectors. Candice offers a strong understanding of the workforce challenges facing industry today. Known for her clear vision and decisive leadership, she has led high-performing teams through complex, multimillion-dollar projects, organizational transitions, and modern service delivery initiatives across provincial and municipal environments.

A collaborative and results-driven leader, Candice is passionate about building accountable teams and aligning partners around shared goals. Her governance experience includes serving on the York Region Wastewater Advisory Panel and the Board of Directors for the Ontario Clean Water Agency. Candice combines operational excellence with a deep commitment to public service and delivering measurable outcomes. Since joining Skilled Trades Ontario in 2024, she has led the successful transition of core apprenticeship responsibilities, strengthened collaboration with industry and system partners, and advanced efforts to modernize services and improve the client experience. Candice is focused on building a responsive, efficient system and growing Ontario's skilled trades talent pipeline to meet current and future labour market needs.

She has a personal connection to the skilled trades, having been raised in a generational trades family. This experience continues to inform Candice's commitment to building a more inclusive and accessible system. Today, she is also the proud parent of a 309A electrician, further reinforcing her dedication to supporting the next generation of skilled workers. A graduate of Loyalist College's Honours Business Program with a specialization in accounting, Candice brings strong financial acumen and a steady, forward-thinking leadership style that supports sustainable growth and operational excellence. Outside of work, she enjoys hiking, golfing and spending time on the water with her family in rural Ontario.
