Matthew I. Whitehorn is a partner in the firm's tax group, chair of the employee benefits group, and chair of the pro bono committee, and was the 2016-2017 chair of the IRS Advisory Committee on Tax Exempt and Government Entities (ACT). Matt works with clients on a broad range of benefits matters and has spent over 25 years focusing his practice on ERISA issues. In addition to ERISA and retirement plan fiduciary requirements, Matt regularly addresses benefits issues such as Affordable Care Act compliance, governmental and tax-exempt employer pension and 457(b) plans, employee benefits in bankruptcy, compliance reviews of qualified retirement plans, and nonqualified deferred compensation plans and compliance with Code Section 409A and Code Section 457(f) requirements. Matt is a member of the International Foundation of Employee Benefits Plans as well as the IRS Mid-Atlantic Area Pension Liaison Group. He serves as the co-chair of the Philadelphia Bar Association employee benefits committee and is a member of its pension committee. Matt is an adjunct law faculty at Temple University Law School and has taught qualified employee benefit plans and executive compensation through its graduate tax program. He is also a fellow of the American College of Employee Benefits Counsel.
