

Amit Arwindekar

North American Medical Director
UnitedHealthcare Global
Chicago, Illinois

Dr. Arwindekar is the North American medical director for UnitedHealthcare Global, where he specializes in cross-border medical care, evacuation, medical transportation, complex case management and medical services innovative to meet the needs of global citizens. As a medical director in academic urban emergency departments, he has built systems to ensure quality care, reduce waiting times, increase capacity and build collaboration across specialties by implementing transparency of information, clear communication and empowering frontline staff. Dr. Arwindekar is a physician executive, clinical leader and educator specializing in acute care for globally mobile populations. His passion is developing the next generation of clinical leaders and building the systems to make high-quality emergency care accessible to all patients. Dr. Arwindekar serves as an assistant professor of emergency medicine at the University of Illinois College of Medicine. He received his medical degree from Georgetown University School of Medicine and his M.B.A. degree from the McDonough School of Business before completing specialist training in emergency medicine at the University of Chicago.