

Ross Weiler, M.B.A., CHIE

Principal
Day Health Strategies
Somerville, Massachusetts

Mr. Weiler brings over 30 years of leadership experience in health and welfare benefits consulting; health plan and insurer product development and management and account management; commercial and government health insurance programs and administration; public and private exchanges; and regulatory compliance. He recently led Medicaid Accountable Care Organization (ACO) assessment, transformation and implementation engagements for health care organizations in Massachusetts and North Carolina. Mr. Weiler specializes in strategic planning; product and program design, development, pricing, implementation, administration and service delivery; regulatory compliance; and reporting and analysis. He began his career as an employee benefits consultant with Mercer and has since held senior roles at Aetna, Tufts Health Plan, Watson Wyatt and Private Healthcare Systems. Mr. Weiler has significant experience as strategist, project leader, advisor and educator on numerous complex product, program and service development efforts and has focused extensively on developing and delivering consultative solutions to challenges related to employee benefits strategy, design, delivery, compliance, communication and administration. In addition to his leadership experience within health plans/insurers and exchanges, he has consulted with public and private exchanges, multiple state and local government entities, health care organizations and employers on a variety of business and regulatory challenges. Mr. Weiler received his M.B.A. degree from the Boston University School of Management, concentrating in health care management and achieving highest honors, and a B.F.A. degree from the Boston Conservatory of Music. He has been an active member of the New England Employee Benefits Council (NEEBC) Board of Directors for many years and served on its executive committee.