Principal
Eckler Ltd.
Toronto, Ontario

Jeff Bradley is a principal and consulting actuary in the pension and benefits practice at Eckler Ltd. Specializing in multi-employer pension plans (MEPPs), he joined Eckler in 2007 and consults to a number of large MEPP clients, extensively working on funding and solvency valuations, plan design, sustainability analysis, governance, plan mergers, negotiations and administration. For several clients, he provides trustee education and presents at plan membership meetings. Active in the profession and in the pension industry, Bradley has published articles on pension issues, developed content for examinations for the Society of Actuaries, and participated on actuarial education and examination committees. He also works with university program coordinators to provide industry insight and enhance program offerings. Bradley graduated from Western University with an honours bachelor of science degree in actuarial science and is a fellow of both the Society of Actuaries (FSA) and the Canadian Institute of Actuaries (FCIA).
